

No where does it say one must be a member of a mega-church to have a relationship with God. God clearly tells us, for where two or three are gathered together in His name, there He is in the midst. Prince Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal Church is a modest church, located in the little community of Corinth. When God's children get together at Prince Chapel, there is no denying that God is in the midst.

Before one could discuss the church body as a whole one must first recognize the shepherd of the flock. Our very own, Rev. Cathy C. Jones is saved, sanctified and Holy Ghost filled. Truly an anointed and appointed woman of God. She is the virtuous woman described in Proverbs 31. Rev. Jones is decorated with strength and honor.

At Prince Chapel, we seek strength spiritually, physically, mentally and emotionally. We seek these things because we know, "Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, neither have entered into the heart of man, the things which God hath prepared for us."

As a body of believers, we strive to do what God has commanded us to do, "Be ye kind to one another, tender-hearted, forgiving one another," We are preparing to stand at the gates of our mansion to hear the mighty voice of our Lord and Savior say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

Prince Chapel recognizes that we are in the land of the dying (earth) trying to make it to the land of the living (Heaven). We continuously stand on the word, for we know Heaven and earth shall pass away but His words shall not pass away.

Day by day, we continue to press on. The devil has plans for us to be victims. But in the name of Jesus we are victorious.

At Prince Chapel, the joy of the Lord is our strength and no devil in hell can still our joy!
